TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must sustain an examination on Cæsar, Virgil, the Greek Reader, Adam's Latin Grammar, Sophocles' Greek Grammar, English Grammar, Ancient and Modern Geography, Arithmetic and Loomis' Elementary Algebra.

A candidate for an advanced standing, in addition to the above studies, is examined in the various branches to which the class, he proposes to enter, has attended.

Satisfactory testimonials of good moral character are required, and those coming from other institutions must bring certificates of regular and honorable dismissal.

An accurate and thorough acquaintance with the studies required for admission is indispensable, in order to receive the full advantage of the College course.

It is found from experience, that students, imperfectly prepared for the class they enter, are embarrassed in their future progress, and are seldom able to repair the want of solid preparatory study.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

The course of instruction in the Preparatory Department, which is under the supervision of the College Faculty, embraces a solid and thorough English education, whilst those who desire to prepare for business, or for College, have every advantage for the acquisition of the elements of Mathematics, and of the Latin, Greek, and German languages.

For those who propose to receive a regular Collegiate Education, the course of instruction contemplates a period of three years; but the student is taken through in a longer or shorter period, according to his attainments, abilities, and application.

The following scheme gives a general view of the studies, pursued in this Department:

Reading, Writing, Orthography, and the Definition of Words, English Grammar (Parker's), Arithmetic (Loomis'), Book-keeping (Shea's), Modern Geography (McNally's), Ancient Geography (Mitchell's), History of the United States and Great Britain (Goodrich's Series), Algebra (Loomis'), Composition and Declamation, Watts on the Mind, Latin and Greek Grammar (Adam's and Sophocles'), Latin and Greek Reader (Jacobs' and Owen's), Sophocles' Greek Lessons, Caesar, Nepos, Virgil, and Sallust.

Students sufficiently advanced in this Department are permitted to attend recitations with the College classes in any of the branches they require, such as German, Chemistry, Geometry, Surveying, Mensuration, Rhetoric, History, etc., for which no additional charge is made. The students are provided with rooms in the College building. The tuition is the same as in the College Department. Terms and vacations are also the same.

Instruction and Supervision.

The instruction in the College is given entirely by the Professors, who have been engaged for some years in their respective departments. Lectures are also occasionally delivered by the Professors.

The discipline of the Institution is, as nearly as possible, parental. The President, under whose immediate supervision the building is placed, with the other officers, exercises a constant guardianship over the whole establishment, so that parents at a distance have all the security they may desire for the proper government of their children.

The German Language.

A new Professorship having been established in the College by the Synod of Pennsylvania, designed to furnish the student with facilities for acquiring a knowledge of the German language and its literature, instruction is now given to the classes in this department as a part of the regular College course. In addition to the use of the text-books mentioned in the foregoing course of instruction, written exercises are prepared by the students during the whole course, and at all the recitations of the classes, opportunities are afforded for acquiring a familiarity with the German as a spoken language.

A German Literary Society exists in the College, the exercises of which, (Composition, Debates, Declamation, etc.,) resemble those of the two English Societies; the proceedings at all the regular meetings are, however conducted in the German language.

Literary Societies.

There are two Literary Societies connected with the College, the Philomathæan and the Phrenakosmian, which exert a favorable influence on the improvement of the members. Their Halls occupy the two wings on the fourth story of the College edifice, and are furnished in a beautiful and tasteful manner. They hold their meetings every Wednesday afternoon.

Linnæan Society.

The object of this Association is to promote among its members a love of Nature, by cultivating the study of the various branches of Natural Science, and by making collections of specimens in these departments. A Hall has been erected for the reception of the interesting and valuable collection of minerals, shells, fossils, birds, quadrupeds, reptiles, insects, coins, paintings, engravings, medals, etc., secured by the industry of the members and the liberality of friends.

Libraries.

The College Library, to which all the students have free access, contains many valuable works. The Libraries of the three Literary Societies also comprise a large number of well selected and standard volumes, which have regularly increased by annual appropriations for that purpose. These Libraries are accessible to the members of the Societies, upon compliance with such laws as the Societies respectively enact.

The College Library contains	5600 vols.
The Phrenakosmian “	4400 “
The Philomathæan “	4200 “
The Linnæan “	100 “

Examinations.

There is a public examination during each College term. A faithful record of the delinquencies of every student, of the degree of his attainment in scholarship, and of his conduct and attendance, is kept; a copy of which record is transmitted to parents or guardians, at the close of each term.

If a student be absent for some time from the Institution, he must sustain an examination upon the studies, to which his class has been attending during his absence.

Scholarships.

A permanent Scholarship in the Institution may be obtained by the payment of four hundred dollars, which perpetually secures to the holder of the certificate the right of gratuitous instruction for one student. The certificate may be transferred or sold as any other certificate of stock. Several of these scholarships have been taken by congregations as well as by individuals. W. G. Thompson, Esq., of Lancaster, and Hon. E. McPherson, of Gettysburg, have each established a scholarship for the purpose of giving the benefit of a Collegiate education to the most indigent and successful pupil who shall pass through the prescribed course in the High School of Gettysburg.

Premiums.

A friend of the College has given the sum of five hundred dollars to the institution, for the purpose of securing high scholarship in the Freshman class. The interest of the fund is given, at the close of the year, to the individual who shall be found, upon examination, the best in all the regular studies attended to by his class.

Charles W. Hassler, of the United States Navy, has offered a Gold Medal of the value of twenty dollars, to be awarded to that student of the Junior Class, who shall exhibit the greatest proficiency in the Latin Language, prior to the Annual Commencement of 1863.

Religious Exercises.

Devotional exercises are daily held in the College Chapel, one of the Faculty officiating. The students are also required to attend public worship on the Sabbath, in the College church, unless they bring a written request from their parents or guardians, specifying the particular congregation, with which they wish to worship. They are likewise required to attend a Biblical recitation on Sabbath afternoon, conducted by one of the officers of the Institution.

Expenses.

The necessary expenses of the College each term, exclusive of books, clothing, furniture and travelling expenses are as follows :

Board, 13 weeks, at $2 per week,.....	$26 00
Tuition,.....	12 00
Room rent, etc.,.....	3 00
Washing,	3 00
Fuel and light,.....	2 00
	<hr/>
	$46 00

Total for the Collegiate year,.....$138 00

Boarding in clubs may be procured for $1 30 per week.

The tuition must in all cases be paid in advance.

The expenses will vary according to circumstances and the character and habits of the students. In incidental expenses, if the parent and guardian furnish the means, or authorize the contracting of debts, an individual may be very extravagant.

Persons, desirous of doing so, can entrust the management of funds for their sons to any member of the Faculty, by whom they will be applied to the purposes intended.

Terms and Vacations

The Annual Commencement is held on the second Thursday of August. The first term begins six weeks from the day of Commencement, and continues thirteen weeks; the second begins three weeks from the close of the first term, and continues thirteen weeks; the third begins four weeks from the close of the second, and continues thirteen weeks, until the day of the Annual Commencement. The Collegiate year is thus divided into three terms, each of thirteen weeks' continuance. The intervening periods of six, three and four weeks are devoted to the vacations.

It is highly important that students be punctual in entering upon their duties at the commencement of each term, since an absence of a few days, at a time when a new branch of study is commenced, seldom fails to embarrass them during the whole course, and in some cases it is impossible to make up the loss.

Public Exercises.

The Baccalaureate Discourse is delivered, the Sunday preceding the day of the Annual Commencement, by the President of the Institution. The annual exercises of the Junior Class occur on Wednesday morning; on the afternoon of the same day there is an Address before the Literary Societies of the College. This year the Rev. W. B. SPRAGUE, D. D., of Albany, N. Y., has been selected to deliver the Address before the Phrenakosmian Society. The annual meeting of the Alumni is held on Wednesday evening, and an Address delivered by one of its members; the duty this year devolves upon GEORGE C. MAUND, Esq., Baltimore, Md.

In consequence of the great and sanguinary battles, fought, on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of July last, in and around the borough of Gettysburg, between the invading Rebel army, under General Lee, and the Union army, under General Meade, the College edifice was used, by Government, for four weeks, as a hospital for the wounded after the defeat and repulse of the enemy. A thorough cleansing, and a considerable amount of repairs having been rendered necessary, it was thought inexpedient to attempt to hold the ordinary public Exercises of the Commencement this year. This work will, however, be done as soon as possible, so that the building will be ready for the return of the students at the beginning of the Fall Session, September 24th.

It is but due to the patriotism of the students of this Institution to state, as a matter of history, that immediately upon the reception of the call of the Governor for Volunteers to defend the State, and repel the invaders from our soil, a company consisting chiefly of sixty College students, under the command of Capt. Klinefelter, were the first to reach Harrisburg, June 17th, and to be mustered into the service for the "Emergency."
